

Masha: Hey! It's nice to see you. Would you like to join me for a cup of coffee?

Kimberly: I saw you were reading and didn't want to disturb you.

Masha: That's okay. I'm almost finished anyway.

Kimberly: Thanks. May I ask what you were reading?

Masha: The Holy Scriptures, the Bible.

Kimberly: Oh, I didn't know you were Christian. I am Muslim.

Masha: Nice to hear. Nowadays, it's rare to meet a person who believes in God.

Kimberly: It is true. But I believe there is only one God.

Masha: Me too.

Kimberly: How so? I thought that Christians believe in the Trinity.

Masha: Not really. According to the Bible, there is only one God.

Kimberly: And what about Jesus?

Masha: Jesus was sent by God to tell the people about Him.

Kimberly: I am really surprised. Then who was Jesus?

Masha: He played a crucial role in God's plan to free mankind from sin and gave them hope to live forever on earth.

Kimberly: To live forever on earth. I've never heard about such a thing.

Masha: By the way, since we are talking about Jesus, in several weeks we will have a special meeting dedicated to Jesus. It will be told who Jesus was, what he did, and why it is so important to us. It will be held on March 24th. If you are interested, tomorrow I can bring you an invitation.

Kimberly: I don't know whether I would have time.

Masha: No worries. Just let me know if it will work for you.

Kimberly: Okay. Thanks.
